What is TED?
Tertiary Experience Day, otherwise known as TED, is the opportunity for schools, community and scholarship program students to experience our vibrant campus and a glimpse into our student life.

TED provides information on the opportunities that UQ provide for future Indigenous students. Students are hosted by the Outreach and Engagement team from the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Studies (ATSIS) Unit, where students have the chance to meet current Indigenous university students and tour of the ATSIS Unit.

What is included
• Full day campus experience day
• "Amazing Race" campus tour
• Interactive workshops with faculties
• Information session with ATSIS Unit Student Success Team
• ATSIS Unit lunch with Indigenous Academics, Staff and Students
